A NEW PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN OIL&NONOIL AND FEDERLAVAGGI: ENERGY TRANSITION AND INNOVATIONS FOR THE SERVICE STATIONS OF THE FUTURE ON DISPLAY AT THE FAIR

Adolfo Rebughini, General Manager of Veronafiere: «partnership that will enrich the value Oil&nonOil offers to its exhibitors and visitors, creating opportunities for dialogue and growth».
Marco Costamagna, President of Federlavaggi: «Veronafiere represents an ideal platform to showcase the excellence of our industry and foster encounters between our members and fuel distribution operators»

Verona, 24 April 2025 – Veronafiere and Federlavaggi, the leading association in the vehicle wash sector, announce the launch of a new partnership for the 19th edition of Oil&nonOil, the only event in Italy and the Mediterranean basin dedicated to professionals in the fuel distribution supply chain, scheduled to take place in Verona from 22 to 24 October 2025.

The partnership includes a range of joint initiatives, such as a dedicated exhibition area for the car wash sector, workshops and in-depth thematic discussions, and networking activities aimed at encouraging collaboration between companies. Federlavaggi will contribute expertise on issues ranging from safety and environmental regulations to opportunities for tax incentives and innovations in Industry 4.0 and 5.0. This partnership further strengthens Veronafiere's commitment to fostering strategic collaborations for the energy transition and the transformation of service stations into multifunctional hubs.

«The synergy with Federlavaggi is an important step forward towards an integrated and innovative vision for the future of service stations and mobility services» said Adolfo Rebughini, General Manager of Veronafiere. «We are confident that this collaboration will enhance the value that Oil&nonOil offers to its exhibitors and visitors, creating opportunities for dialogue and growth for the companies and professionals involved».

«We are very pleased with this new collaboration with Oil&nonOil» said Marco Costamagna, President of Federlavaggi. «In recent years, the significant growth in the number of our members has broadened our representation from car wash equipment manufacturers to suppliers serving service stations. We therefore believe that Veronafiere is the ideal platform to present the excellence of our sector and promote engagement between our members and fuel distribution operators».

Founded in 2006 by seven major industrial companies in the car wash supply chain, Federlavaggi aims to increase the quality and value of the entire sector, protect and support member companies, and promote technical, economic, and financial studies relevant to the industry.

Oil&nonOil is preparing for its next edition, to be held at Verona Exhibition Centre from 22 to 24 October, with an even richer programme of content and opportunities, reaffirming its leadership in the Italian trade fair scene dedicated to the fuel and mobility services sector. Just a few months after opening registrations, many companies and industry leaders have already confirmed their participation. This demonstrates the growing interest and importance of Oil&nonOil, which promises to be an unmissable business opportunity and a place to discover the latest technological developments and the most innovative solutions for energy and sustainable mobility.

Federlavaggi joins the many associations and bodies that support the event, including: Assocostieri, Assogasliquidi, Federchimica, Assogasmetano (National Association of Natural Gas Distributors for Vehicles), Assolavaggisti, Assopetroli-Assoenergia, Fai Autotrasporti, Fai (Italian Road Hauliers Federation), Federmetano (National Federation of Natural Gas Distributors and Transporters), Fegica (Italian Federation of Fuel Station Managers), Fiap (Italian Federation of Professional Hauliers), FIGISC (Italian Federation of Road Fuel Station Managers), Unem (Energy Union for Mobility), Faib (Italian Autonomous Federation of Petrol Station Managers), and Faib Confesercenti Veneto.

Oil&nonOil

Following the success of its last edition with 120 exhibiting companies and more than 4,000 qualified visitors, once again aims to represent a dynamic sector and offer opportunities for exchange and professional development. Oil&nonOil hosts operators and exhibitors from all sectors of fuel distribution: from the «Oil» segment – covering the design and construction of facilities, safety, technical installations, and management systems – to the «NonOil» segment – including accessories, car washes, cafés, convenience stores, and cleaning products – as well as fuel storage and transport – from vehicles and tanks to pipelines, valves, and pumps – and alternative fuels such as biodiesel, natural gas, LPG, methane, hydrogen, electric mobility, and charging systems.
